IMPORTANT NOTE

Moringa Oil, also known as Ben oil, is the extract from the seeds of the Moringa Oleifera tree. For thousands of years Ayurvedic medicine in India has treated over 200 diseases with Moringa Oil. The reason for the name "Ben Oil" is the high content of Behenic acid. Moringa Oil has been mentioned as a very useful oil in the medicinal books of Greece and in the ancient empire of Rome which is well documented.

Nowadays, there are many qualities of Moringa Oil on the market that not can be compared with the historical and healing Ben oil. There is raw and untreated Oil that often comes from Asian countries. There is refined oil, which has lost a lot of valuable ingredients during heating. Many producers dilute all qualities of Moringa Oil for economic reasons. Chose the best!
